

LIST OF AUDIO

- 'A guy walked in and put a bomb on the reception desk.'
- 'Black humour kept people going.'
- 'Everybody's more free.'
- 'How many times did my windows get put in?'
- 'I thought Gerry Fitt was a decent man.'
- 'I wanted peace for my grandkids.'
- 'I was born two weeks before the loyalist ceasefire.'
- 'My children were as good as theirs.'
- 'My first memory of the Troubles.'
- 'News came through about the shooting at Greysteele.'
- 'Nowhere was safe.'
- 'Papering over the cracks.'
- 'Shaky Peace Agreement.'
- 'Taken to a safe place.'
- 'The division of young people is not good for society.'
- 'The majority of people were for it, but wary.'
- 'The sights I've seen.'
- 'There was no real stability for our generation.'
- 'We had to run like hell.'
- 'We stuck to our own areas.'
- 'Where's the bomb? Where's the bomb?'
- 'You got so used to it you thought nothing of it.'
- 'You had to get on with normal life.'
- 'You hung your troubles up with your coat.'
- 'You were a suspect if you had an Irish accent.'